That's All, Folks!

CARRIE HAS LEFT THE BUILDING

And perhaps, as we watch the night skies this evening, we will catch a glimpse of those we've lost. In the silhouette of the moon, or the sound of the wind, or the light that passes as we stand our ground against the darkness. And perhaps we will remember that every life, even the shortest or the most seemingly insignificant, has meaning in the universe. Even our own.

WELCOME TO THE SPECIAL PIC-A-NIC EDITION OF THE DAILY HORK

ON THE AFTERNOON OF SUNDAY, OCTOBER 17, 2010 THE MOLLY WATCHERS PICNIC WAS HELD AT WALNUT GROVE PARK IN SAN MARCOS, CALIFORNIA. THE EVENT WAS ATTENDED BY HUNDREDS OF MODS FROM ALL OVER THE COUNTRY AND ALMOST $3,000.00 WAS RAISED FOR THE NATURE FUND THAT THE ROYALS HAVE SET UP, MAKING THAT TOTAL ALMOST $12,000.00 !

A TEAM OF DAILY HORK REPORTERS AND PHOTOGRAPHERS WERE SENT TO COVER THE FESTIVITIES. IT WAS DIFFICULT TO GET OUR TEAM TO FOCUS, AS THEY WERE BUSY EATING, SINGING, LAUGHING AND BUYING GOODIES, BUT WE WERE ABLE TO GET THEM TO SIT DOWN LONG ENOUGH TO CONTRIBUTE THEIR TAKE ON THE EXPERIENCE.

WE HOPE YOU WILL ENJOY THIS SPECIAL EDITION OF THE DAILY HORK.

PIC-A-NIC FOOD

FOOD AND WINE EDITOR BIG BRONIE BARR REVIEWS THE FOOD OPTIONS AT THE PICNIC

Elegant it was not.

But yummy? OMG, it was, it was, it was !!!

Although Carlos had asked everyone to bring their own food, many generous MODs showed up with enough food for the entire group.

There was a huge tray of small Krispie Kreme donuts, labeled "Carrie's Donuts". The woman who brought them, "I'm Not Austin", said that when she went to pay for the three huge boxes of donuts at the checkout, the girl asked here if they were "for here or to go?"

Anyway, there were glazed, and chocolate, creme filled and sugar - and a lot of MODs with early afternoon sugar highs. There were fresh pomegranates brought by a California MOD who had picked them from her tree that morning. There were ridiculously sweet and juicy chocolate covered strawberries, owl shaped shortbread cookies, and a plethora of food labeled as "horks": stuffed grape leaves and chocolate-coconut no-bake cookies among them. Date cookies, pretzels, three kinds of pie, crackers, cheese, adorable iced owl cookies, brownies - the goodies just went on the entire length of three picnic tables. And there was not a single thing there that was not baked, created or bought with love, and shared with joy. This food editor came away with a full tummy and an even fuller heart. Thank you to all the generous and wonderful MODs for sharing yourself and your treats!

ASK "QUEEN BEE"

DEAR CONFUSED, DISTRAUGHT AND DOWNTRODDEN:

QUEEN BEE IS HERE FOR YOU. WELL, SHE'S HERE. SEND YOUR PATHETIC PROBLEMS TO:
"QUEENBEE@DAILYHORK.COM."

AFTER I STOP LAUGHING, I WILL EITHER IGNORE IT, OR I SHALL DEIGN TO GIVE YOU A MINISCULE AMOUNT OF VALUABLE SPACE ON MY PAGE. IGNORE MY ADVICE AT YOUR PERIL.

I AM THE QUEEN BEE. AND I DO NOT SUFFER FOOLS GLADLY.

PLEASE DON'T CONFUSE ME WITH CAR. SHE'S A MAUDLIN IDIOT.

QUESTION OF THE DAY:

Dear Queen Bee,

I looked for you at the picnic, but didn't see you there. Why not?

Sincerely yours,

A MOD fan

Dear Odd Fan,

I have no idea. Were you drunk?

I most certainly was there, buzzing about amongst my clamoring admirers.

I had a few pomegranate seeds, several lovely cookies, and a flask of gin, and I was off.

It was a unique event. Your Queen has never really seen anything like it. Of course, neither have you, apparently.

Now, don't even THINK about trying to come and look for me again. I have pictures of everyone at that event, and I'm not afraid to use them.

*Your most affectionate,
Queen Bee*

Pic-A-Nic

Tuesday, October 19, 2010

It was one heck of a day!

First off, I believe I have discovered that my long-lost sister has GOT to be Donna Royal! (Probably also fathered by the milk-man.) I was uploading the pictures, and when I saw the resemblance, I almost fell off my chair!

Then, it turns out that the SPO MODs are just a fantastic group of people. This was the second time I have had the luck to meet some of you in person, and just like the NYC MODs, it felt like I had known you forever!

The rest of the people at the event, for the most part, were also kind, gracious and lovely people. And Carlos Royal is the real deal. He is genuine, and an absolute delight. This person you see on the camera is real, people. He IS that nice, and sweet, and has a huge love for life and clearly adores his wife, as well. Donna is a bit more of an enigma. She is quite nice, but much more reserved than her husband. Eric is even more attractive in real life, and he has real charisma and curiosity. And Vacadude is kind of shy, but very sweet, with an infectious smile. It was really fun to meet these people in person.

So much happened that it's hard to process it all. I'll probably have to do this special edition in two parts - there's just too much to cover. So I hope you had fun watching, and I hope you enjoy the reporting. I wish you could all have been there!

I was truly concerned about being an "ambassador" for SPO MODS. I don't think I'm the best person for that job. But rest assured that Amberlight did a wonderful job making sure that you were seen and heard by Carlos and Donna, and she is so sweet that I know they just loved and appreciated her.

I'll be in contact with some of the people involved with the owl box in the very near future, and hopefully will have some fun news to share with you all. Until then, please know that it is true, you are the best!
