Barn Owls - Mel & Sydney

Mel & Sydney - Oceanside, California

Mel (male) & Sydney (female), are a mating pair of barn owls located in Oceanside, California. The owl box owner is originally from Melbourne, Australia. The box was set up in mid November and the owls could be seen in the box just two weeks later. This owl box is 16ft above the ground in the owners back yard which is near acres of open wilderness. This provides for plenty of hunting grounds for the owls.

Incubation is 30-34 days from the date each egg is laid. Unlike chickens, Barn Owls begin to incubate immediately after the 1st egg is laid. Each egg will hatch on a different day. All time is in PST(Pacific Standard Time). More information about this camera can be found at Mel & Sydney's Daily Blog.

I am going to do a PDF for the wiki shortly to capture any comments and memories about James Hill made yesterday and this morning. If you have anything to post that you want included, please do it quickly. 😊

Good Morning! The piano tuner is here, so I have music (sort of) in the background. 😊

Just stepped out to walk the dog and saw in the trees a doe and the first fawn I have seen this year! 😊 Of course, I did not have my camera with me. 😞 Still, it was exciting because I had thought maybe there were no new fawns here this year. We normally see them in June.

Hi Chris! Lynn asked earlier if there was a time limit for the donations for James. I said I would ask you when I saw you. Her post is not to far below. Thanks!

I doubt there is a time limit. But they will wait one month for donations to come in before contacting the family with the total and making arrangements about the owl, so folks should try to donate in that month. At least that is how I understand this information. I have posted it again below.

PICTURES

Generally if you donate after that, they will wait a month or two and send another letter to the family with those donations. Most donations stop after about that time. They will always notify the family of donation made in someone's memory. But if you want to be included with the owl or bird release, you probably need to do it in this month.

I would love for all of us to share our favorite recipes for Labor Day! What do you grill on the Barbie? What is your favorite salad and side dish? Favorite dessert? Favorite family memory? I know it is kind of early. That way, I can put them in my stats for everyone!
Thanks!

Here's one of JH's images. So full of promise! As is each new day. We'll move through this. 😊

Hi Pursja sister! It is gray down here too. But I love it also. When Izzy left us, Sunny didn't really know what to do. I slept on the couch with him a few nights. Angie and I comforted each other those nights I sleep in my bedroom. It took a few weeks. Even though I had the three of them, they never spent time together. I miss having cats that sleep and play together. Angie has her end of the house, and me at night. Sunny has the other end of the house, and me during the day. It works for us.

I am glad you are here with us today again! You are always in my heart sister! (((Hugs))) 😊

Hi Pursja...it's sad to see a pet grieving like that...when Sully (kitty) was very ill and I slept on the floor next to him...his brother Ebony was right there, laid next to him...just seeing that made me weep! It took him a little while but he did get back to his old self before too long. I hope yours does, too.

Good morning Becky, hope its a good one dear girl, Has anyone heard or talked to our sweet Pursja lately? Hope she' s doing okay after the passing of her dear Siam fur baby. I didn't make it hear again last night went to visit a dear friend who is moving to Nebraska in September, actually she's like a little sister to me, I grew up with her two older sisters and have know her and the family forever since I was a kid growing up. Will miss her alot , but plan on visiting her and her hubby and two fur dog babies. Her Dh works for Home Depot and just got promoted to a store assistant manager in Bellevue Nebraska. They both need a change in their lives and wish them both well in their new adventure. Our kids who are moving to Virginia at the end of August , used to live in Bellview and still have their house there as a rental property. They will be serving a three year tour of duty for the Airforce and then return to Nebraska to their lake home in Plattsmouth after the three years tour is up. They are also renting there lake home out , as they love it so much and are planning on returning to it in three years. Going to miss them and our wonderful grandkids Tori and Cody. We plan on making a few trips to visit them on the east coast while they are staioned there.Hope you have a good day. see ya tonight. 😊

COME slowly, Eden!
 Lips unused to thee,

 Counts his nectars—enters,
 And is lot in balms!

Good sunny morning, off to town again today (sigh) this time I can pick up the note from my doctor to helpfully excuse me from jury duty. I think I will get my Costco shopping done first and buy a fruit platter to take to the doc and his nurse (who is the one that got this done for me). When I get home I will mail the blasted jury summons questionnaire back and hope for the best.

Have a new game on my iPad now and am so addicted in the challenge of playing it. It is called Fish Dom and you get to add fish and plants and things as you earn money by playing the challenges which get harder and harder as you go along. My friend Debbie has gotten it too so now we compare notes on how far we have gotten. She is always ahead of me though. ha ha Guess it doesn't take much to amuse me.

Hope you all have a splendid day.

Ingrid, Best of luck on getting the note so you do not have jury duty. You console me about additions to board games. I have only Chess and a zillion Solitaire card games on this Mac. I do play Bookworm which I find on Yahoo under Games. I also do crossword puzzles occasionally.

Will look up Fish Dom and hope my Mac will accept it. It's so picky! 😊

Morning MG, the game is at the Apple App store. I didn't find it until I upgraded to the Lion operating system and now there is an icon for the store on my screen. There are several free apps but the fish one cost $6.99. I got it for the iPad instead of on the computer so I could sit in other rooms to play it. Bigger screen on the computer though.

Good morning friends, from Purdy WA. It is 53 degrees and cloudy here. A repeat of yesterday's weather. I read that there was an owl last night. Yeah! Seems just when we are about to give up hope, one comes for a visit! Have my coffee, so off to catch up! Hope everyone has a great day! 😊

 Morning all: I'm deliriously happy today! Found a new love in pencil drawing, and in the wee hours of this morning made all my plans for Christmas...sending things early to DD in Az, and taking presents Thanksgiving to DD nearby, that way they don't have to schlepp everything through snow and blowing snow! LOL I'm well on my way with the Christmas stockings, and all looks fine. I will show you a drawing soon, thank goodness I can do dozens and they can be stored in one pad, rather than my paintings that got too large! Have a great day! I'm smiling and haven't even had coffee!

 Dia, With Christmas coming, I about have to use what I have in pencils...I wanted to order some, but found enough to get by...just regular pencils for now. If I get going on it will add colored pencils too. I couldn't find an eraser, so had to use a little light paint on a couple of areas..not much, just enough to cover a listake. I just love it, never thought I could do it as am not that good at drawing!

Jean: My DGD had her wisdom teeth done this last spring, came directly here so mom and sister could help me with planting. She napped on the couch, had some meds, but felt better being with us than at home. She said she felt pretty good, and they told me all went OK in healing. I will think of your DD and hope she is the same. That healing goes well.

He had trouble getting the IV in as her veins were so small. She is home and resting well and wanted to watch some TV. Just had a little bit of a malt with a spoon. Really - I am going to bed. But first, I stopped off to see if there was any response to the post I put on Carlos's blog about James. And while there was no comment by Carlos, I did find this, which I thought was very sweet.

PegRod Says:

Chris, I want to thank you for sharing the link about James Hill. I did not know him, but by your sharing, I am grateful to have been introduced to such a talented member of the Molly the Owl extended family. The Owl Box has brought together people who would never have known one another. I now feel that I have met James Hill, have seen some of his art and photographs, and a photograph of him as well - what deeply beautiful eyes he had to see the world he photographed so well.

By the way, gonna make a PDF in the morning back to Monday morning to catch the posts in memory of James for posterity. For those who don't know, a PDF is like a computer file of what would print out if we printed all the chat threads for a particular time. So if you have anything more you want to post about James for posterity, do it tonight or early morning. 😊 We will be sending some version of these PDFs to James's family.

When I sent the temporary tattoo I mean.

Regarding the gossiping, that is always the problem. If someone tells you all the dirt about others, you need to consider that they are probably doing the same thing about you. So a gossip is not really anyone's friend. And while I don't think any of them have any REAL dirt, we all have habits and faults others could gossip about.

 Hi! Just after I posted that photo below but before I could post the pun of the day my firefox crashed and we could not get it going again. 😞 Don't know what I did to it, but this is my new computer and we are still getting the bugs out. DH had to reinstall Firefox to get it working again. 😄

Good to see Cathy, Trish, & Glenda here. Good night to YTO! Watching TV with the family, so I'll be back in a bit to post the pun.

Thanks you all who greeted me this morning. I had posted (although I had forgotten until Treehouse reminded me!) then 'Poof', like Agnes, I was gone to get things done.

Major cleaning took place downstairs today. Still need to do wash the front room flooring, &amp; just vacuum upstairs. Then need to figure out how to wash a 4 X 5 carpet that was in front of the door &amp; was used by my poor Siam a few times in her last days. Guess I'll scrub in down, hose it off, &amp; let it dry if we have some sun. Hope it will come thru a good cleaning OK.

Hello for a short bit. Today is my Mom's birthday. We have 12 of us going to dinner at the Olive Garden 6:30. I wanted to make a cake but had to settle for a store-bought instead. It is very pretty. She will like it. I bought her a Canon digital camera. It is a very user friendly model. I hope she will enjoy being able to carry the tiny thing with her and capture moments. She'll fuss over how old her brain is and she won't be able to understand it. Well, I'm not going to stand for that. I only hope I will create a photography monster. Thanks for the inspiration JH.

Oh, your mom is going to have so much fun celebrating her birthday. What a nice surprise too of a camera. Just tell her it's okay to make mistakes with taking pictures and it is not like with film, where it is wasted if you do. All she has to do is erase it and go on. I think it could open a whole new world for her. Tell her I said that. Happy Birthday to your dear mom and have a wonderful evening Janeen. You deserve it too!!

Beautiful...tried to get one of my red hibiscus too but came out blurry. Jean did you get an email notice from Walgreen's about a free 8x10 photo? I got one but when I went to their site I didn't see it mentioned.

No, I did not get an email but I went onto their website and went into photo and eventually it showed that there are seven days of special deals all different (today 50% off of a book) and on day five which I presume would be Friday, it has the 8x10 photo. I am hoping I can do another collage of my DD trip to England and not just a photo. Check it out again and see if you see what I found. 😊 Thanks for the heads up, Barbara. I liked your flower pictures. Thanks for doing it. I hope others will follow. Try your hibiscus again and try to really keep your camera steady. It is not easy. 😊

I am tired today for absolutely no reason, I was going to make creamed chicken on biscuits then realized I didn't have any chicken broth...it has turned into chicken parmegian (sp?). Sandy BC James had computer and other technological skills which he shared generously with those of us who were computer challenged. He studied the way of the owls and shared his knowledge with us. He chastised us not to anthropomorphize the owls, stop being worry worts. But most of all (at least to me) he was a kick in the butt funny. He brought such a gift of laughter. When we got going with our playtime, he was a quick witted, sharp tongued fellow who had us ROFLMAO big time. We kidded him back and he allowed us to poke fun at him with good humor. I remember one time I told him I may suffer from multiple personality disorder and he replied "more like multiple species disorder" (I think because I was often posting as URANG, a mischievous orangutan). I LOVED JAMES. I missed him so much when he left the MOLLY BOX and cried when I heard he had died. I'll always have a special place in my heart for that special man. Love, Lady Kathleen

"TO LOOK AT ANYTHING

To look at anything,
If you would know that thing,
You must look at it long;
To look at this green and say
'I have seen spring in these woods!' will not do-you must
Be the thing you see,
You must be the dark snakes of stems
And ferny plumes of leaves,
You must enter in"

Good morning, just stopping by real quick to say hi. I'm off to town after I shower and have some breakfast. HOpe to get the doctor to write my excuse while I am there instead of having to go all the way back later in the day or week to get it so I can send it in and get rid of that jury summons.

Will also stop at the Salvation Army to drop off tow big bags of cloths and a box of just stuff.

May you all have a wonderful day and I will check back in tomorrow morning.

Good morning, friends...I was lurking here awhile, went to M and M's and forgot to say hi here!

It's my sister's last full day here...we might go for a boat ride. It should be pretty nice out, low 80s I believe.

I hope everyone here has a nice day.

Hi Becky. It is nice to be here. I really like Palo Alto and the bonus is my 3 1/2 year old granddaughter. 😊
