Sure looks like it could fly. You need to add fishing line to your shopping list and hang it up! Very cute.

The model looks like one from the website that Chris in Olympia posted last night on the wiki: Papercraft. You could hang it from a wire in the ceiling and then it would fly with the breeze.

Good morning, Mollie. It's nice to see you! The object is an antique Chinese jade talisman which I own. It is pierced for wearing, but I'm not sure where originally - perhaps around the waist.

Well sink me, Chinese jade was my first guess. Could it be the Chinese equivalent of a netsuke? I love the coloration but it's hard to see the detail.

Melissa - Photos of all 4 outside, last night. Not great images, but about the only chance we had with all 4 in the same frame. Two were on the platform for quite some time, each eating their own meals. The two on the perch seemed little interested in what they had, glancing back only once in a while.

Back again! All showered, warm and dry now - was going to do some housework but just had a quick peek on here first to find my screen had frozen with this shot! Also I joined the UK Barn Owl Trust the other day and all my stuff has just turned up - two beautiful posters - one is a photo of 4 owlets in varying stages of fluffiness - probably what these were like about 2 weeks ago, and another is a print of a painting of 2 adult barn owls - I will be getting frames for them this weekend! also lots of info, pens, pencils, notepads - a paper barn owl model to make and a couple of barn owl pins - one of which is already on my handbag!
Housework is on hold (again) 😊

neaurccc, what part of Delaware are you from? We used to vacation annually at Bethany Beach. Have been back every once in a while in the last 10 years but not for at least 3 now. Was a lot of fun as a kid to go there.
Later I had a cousin in Wilmington but we didn't have a chance to visit before he moved north. Would love to go visit the DuPont/Winterthur museum there.

It's pouring with rain here and I'm cold and soaked through to the skin - however I decided that rather than get changed I wanted to come on here and watch the owls come home to bed - what a bonus to find Carlos on too! ... I'm pleased he has had that email commending him for what he has done - i can't understand why anyone would think any differently - surely the whole point is that now thousands of people have an awareness about Barn Owls! Anyway I can barely type my fingers are so cold! ... and who's knocked the top camera?!!

Owls normally swallow prey whole. That's why they hork up pellets - its the fur & bone parts that couldn't be digested. They even have a breathing tube built into their tongues so they can breathe while swallowing something large!

Bad for owls near California airport
In the spring after our initial survey of jackrabbit activity we met with airport authorities to discuss a jackrabbit control program. It was agreed that the most effective and economical method of rabbit control on the airport would be population reduction with the anticoagulant Diphacinone.

they're hysterical! and if that's not why you watch, then I don't get why. We're allowed this opportunity to watch what happens for time out of mind but we get to see the expression in the eyes/disc feathers. We get to watch when an owl in preening his/her-self and doesn't "get" where they end and a sibling begins... Joy vs drama - I get to choose what I'm watching. Thank you Carlos. (Donna, you must laugh all day.)
