for your adventurous spirit and distinguished stance. You kept up with Max.

Dearest Austin, no doubt I loved you most... the way you tenderly cared for Wes and wouldn't leave her behind. You stole my heart.

Dearest Wesley, with no hesitation I loved you the very most...

Dearest, Max, I know I loved you most... for peeking at the camera around mom and capturing our imagination. You led the way. Dearest Pattison, I'm sure I loved you most...

I just checked on the Dutch website for the owls. Does anyone read dutch? How can we find out if the little little one is okay!?

GOOD EVENING FROM MONTREA, FOR THE LAST TIME. Was that really Carlos last good bye? I thought I had another 30 min

Bye the time I'm done with pictures tonight I will have between 1100-1200 pictures in my owl folders.. yep. . I'm certifiable alright.. What a true blessing.

I can't comprehend that the box will not be on-line anymore. It has become a part of my life. I so hope Carlos and Donna reconsider and put up the box, even if they don't communicate with us personally. Like the other boxes, which all have no owner interaction. That would be fine with me. I understand how all consuming it has been for them, but oh, what a wonderful experience for the rest of us in this world. Today, 17:48:08 - Flag - Like - Reply Liked by Mary Carroll (the Shadow)

In short, we 'get' it and what we will miss is this special place and time each day to be with owl of you. It was the reward for dealing with the rest of our lives!

Hello friends, I haven't been around much today, which is unusual, but I t just hurt too bad. Don't get me wrong, I am so happy with the outcome. Last night was amazing!! I'm just selfishly going to miss all this! And you all too--but I felt better after visiting SPO MOD today and seeing a lot of you there! I want to say so much but don't know where to begin....The owls and you all will always be with me and in my heart. Thanks for the memOWLries!

Hi All...Just returned from my son's graduation in San Luis Obispo. We had the surprise pleasure of discovering some great horned owls...mama and three owlets in some giant eucalyptus trees about a mile from where we stayed. It made me think of all of you. I went out walking one morning and spotted them. Yes, Well, I will miss all you MODs. This has been an amazing journey.     Dearest Dudley, I will always love you most...

     One last time... even more fun now that Molly & McGee might be starting anew!
     A GIFT SO RARE
     Oh look! For here we have the fearsome pair Known well to us as Molly and McGee.
     They gave us all a gift so very rare:
     The chance to watch owls living wild and free.
     Their saga started earlier this year
     When mated hearts were touched by Nature's Hand.
     They chose a home so comfy and so dear
     On Carlos' camera laden owlbox stand McGee brought food while Molly calmly stayed
     As millions watched the precious little batch;
    Oh when, we asked, will these eggs ever hatch?
    We won't believe that this could be our folly:
     This passion for the family of Molly!

     I was joking with my husband that the reason why Carlos never made it back on today after going for tea was because the u stream execs were begging him to keep up the broadcast offering himanything, name the building after him, offering to make it easier to broadcast, less cable, moire bandwidth, anything you need Carlos just keep the cameras rolling.

             Brian, do you read the comic Funky Winkerbean where they had a pool going on how long the graduation speech would last? Was one of the last Sunday comics--either yesterday or last week, I forget as I read them both today.

      Well, it's been a blast! Thanks so much to all who made this such a joy. Mostly to Carlos and Donna and Austin for all their hard work, and I pray they have also been blessed because of this event and their hard work. May the Lord bless each of you, and may you all have a wonderful night. I don't know how I will go to Thank you, Merritt and Becky. This has been mostly a happy place to spend time, and a lot of that has been because of you and others with the same crazy, upbeat attitudes. We could always count on Merritt to be the hostess with the mostest, and we could always count on Becky to tell wonderful

                           Jeannie, make sure you keep your mouse pointer out of the white chat space. That's usually what causes trouble for people. The chat will back up on you if you don't keep you mouse pointer to the far sides of the chat stream.

                         I talked to my oldest son today (he lives in another city) and I told him I was sad because Carlos was turning off the cameras tonight.
                         He said "I"m sure there's some other owls out there you can stalk mom".....

Favorite memories of Carlos-- Always calling John Atkinson, John Vacadude then correcting himself. Always forgetting to turn the sound back on, and the famous words "This is Carlos Royal coming to you live from the owlbox, San Marcos California". Gonna really miss Mr. Royal!

Owlosaurus...tonight might be a little emotional for a lot of folks...I'mnot they are understanding that you don't want them to do a post with just Stars....and in all likely hood it will be the last night for all of us, so I'm determined to enjoy it stars or no stars.

       The problem is Susan that maybe none of us will have the chance to enjoy it if the chat gets overloaded with repeated reposting of just the stars. The Owlosaurus PLEASE READ IF YOU ARE POSTING STARS! You can add star votes to the site by scrolling to the top of the page and clicking on the red stars there. EAch time your log on or refresh you can vote again. But PLEASE do not just post in the comments section with "STARS". It's not necessary and the dozens of posts clog up the chat stream. Last night all of these rapid posts actually knocked us off line for a moment. Post all you want if you have a message or a comment, but use the voting stars at the top of the page is all you want to do is record your vote. Thank you!

                    Since I don't have the tech savvy and talent you all do, my contribution is a pic I first posted yesterday. My owl collection sits just above my computer desk, so I've been boking up at it the whole time I've been watching Molly, McGee & the owlets! The little blue & white one is a "dutch owl" - my best friend brought it back from Amsterdam for me two years ago. The second pic is my owlt attoo! I've had it for a little over ten years. As you can see, I really am an owl fanatic.

                    I just saw the Eastern Screech Owl in the house in my yard. I am thrilled that the owl is still there, but I don't think it can possibly fill the void left by this family!!! I have spent far too much time thinking about what this means to me. Coming toward the computer, hearing the sounds outside and inside the box...they are like comfortable old friends. Maybe that is because living in a hot place makes us so isolated. All the windows are closed, doors locked, gates shut! It is a sort of sad way of having company all of the time. Oh my---therapy is in order!

   Ok. Italy, TX next has 4 eggs. (which is good since a snake ate the last clutch) The Dutch nest has 5 owlets---white, furry kids trying to down whole mousies.
   How many are in the Barn Owl Trust nest? When the mom was perching above, I tried to get a count, but they were all huddled so tight, it was impossible to count. Does anyone know? The site does not list, or at least I have not found where to look yet.

Earlier there were two mocking birds on the roof. There was a momentary spread/flash of their tails. Firting or territorial? Who knows? If M & M don't come back, maybe they will nest in the box. They have the rasp down pat...and the stomp on the roof too.

I am thinking with all the action, they will not pull the plug tonight. They may be thinking to keep the cameras up for a little while longer.
They are not leaving for their trip until after the ebook is finished and Austin is finished with school and his project. Maybe we can hope for a few more days!!!

PHOTOS: Nine Unusual And (Adorable) Animal Friendships Animals have a sensational ability to surprise us with the rare bonds they form, often defying animal experts' understanding and even going against the predatory instincts of nature. Whether a snake and a hamster, a crow and a cat, or a dog and an elephant-these are all fascinating friendships animals have formed beyond the boundaries of species.
If they can get along...it shouldn't be too hard for us, right?

      Elliott, I've seen pictures of a Mockingbird actually landing on the back of a Red-tail hawk while the hawk was in flight. They are fearless! I have those pictures somewhere; if I can find them today, I'll post them.

I was reading in the basement and heard that mocking bird - even though I knew it wasn't our owls... it sounded so real- I had to scroll up and see!!! How funny that he's learned to sound like them "

Here was a fight from Saturday night/Sun. morn of 2 on the roof while one watched on the landing. I am looking at the photos I took that night/morn and wondering if Molly and McGee were in the mix more than we know. 😕 Maybe I'll post a few of them (shots of the crew checking out the inside of the Box for

       Oh I had to leave after they chased 1 or more of the owlets off...that was gutwrenching to watch... I know they are teaching the owlets to survive on their own but it just seemed too soon.

       I didn't think that was an owlet. It didn't look or act like one. I thought it looked like another adult owl. A stranger!

       Chicakee or anyone who knows. There was a point when Molly or McGee was on the perch 1 was on the roof and 1 on the jungle gym and then the 1 on the roof and jungle gymhad a somewhat like "spat" and flew off. Carlos then said owls had collided....do we know who those original 3 were?
       Today, 15:00:09 - Flag - Like - Reply
      I saw the whole thing, but I couldn't tellyou anything for sure. I; mnow pretty sure Molly and McGee were courting last night. Thre was no sign of the owlets. Then this third owl showed up- he/she just sat up there on the roof for a bit. Kind of checking things out. No vocalizations from it at all. No owlet hissing noises, so I did not think it was an owlet. Plus is had the long tail feathers of the adults. It was there on the roof for a few minutes, and then started beaking with the owl on the perch. Then the owl on the perch flew up on the roof, there was a lot of flapping and some more beaking. And then a bit of a chase complete with a few fly-bys.

      I am so sorry, James!!
       Remember that I took these the night or morning before last night. That's why I'm wondering if Molly and McGee were there both nights, even if for a minute or two. This one was a little tiff and not a collision, if I recall this particular shot correctly. These are just some of the shots. I am really more interested in who was really checking out the inside of the box 2 nights ago now not just last night's romantic encounter.
       Yes, last night, when Molly and McGee took over, I thought it was sad for the kids. The box was really for rent after all.
